S. B. & Z. S. Prince's Successors.

In Their Large Dry Goods Business.
Norway people and all who have done business with S. B. & Z. S. Prince regret their going out of business. They have been engaged in active business here since July, 1883.

Naturally as they have sold their business the large number of people in this vicinity, who have traded at their store, some of the younger generation all their lives, are anxious to know of their successors.

We copy the following from the Herald and News of Randolph, Vt.:—
"Z. L. Merchant, a highly valued and trusted salesman in the store of E. A. Thomas for the last 16 years, is to leave his present position the first of July to go into partnership with Ernest Sargent of Woodsville, N. H., in a dry goods store which they will open at Norway, the first of August."

"Mr. Sargent will remain in Woodsville, where he has been established some time. Mr. Merchant will manage the store in Maine, which he is more than competent to do; for not only does he understand the dry goods business thoroughly in all its details, but he is a salesman par excellence with a taste and judgment on which customers soon learn to rely. Added to other necessary qualifications for success he has the courteous bearing and pleasing address that find favor and make friends everywhere."

"Norway is said to be a lively and attractive town and this business opening is an especially good one. While the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Merchant from Randolph will be sincerely regretted, the change will undoubtedly be to their advantage and, in the words of Rip Van Winkle's toast, their hosts of good wishes can only say, 'May they live long and prosper.'"

In regard to Mr. Merchant, who will have charge of the store in our village, E. A. Thomas of Randolph, a dealer in boots and shoes, dry goods and ladies' garments, writes to S. B. & Z. S. Prince:—

"I am writing in regard to Mr. Merchant, who has been with me a long time, and has purchased your store. You will find him a thorough business man, very progressive, honest and dependable, all-round man. He is a great worker, and one you can recommend to your friends in every way."

"This is nothing he has asked for, but I am very glad to say a good word for him. Very truly yours, E. A. THOMAS."

This is the second game the Norway team has won from the Paris boys this season, the time with a score of 5 to 3. In the fourth inning a succession of runs were made causing no small amount of applause and excitement.

During the evening the boys appeared on the streets with the "white elephant," a very life like representation, and celebrated the victory. Eli, the white elephant, went out to South Paris. Civilized in the shape of a couplet—Best, eggs and rocks—were exchanged but came off safely though not as clean as when he went over.

MRS. MARY MCLEOD AND FAMILY.

Drowned in Little Pond.

Our little village was saddened Thursday, in learning of the death by drowning of Allan McLeod. Mr. McLeod went fishing on Little Pond that morning, but no anxiety was felt by the family until late in the day as he was accustomed to take long walks in the woods for enjoyment.

When he failed to come for dinner it was thought something must be wrong. During the afternoon a party went to the pond and found the boat capsized. The body was recovered Friday morning.

Twenty-one years ago Mr. McLeod, then a youth of eighteen striving to gain success, came from Darlington, Prince Edward's Island. Here he found employment in the store of the late A. S. Bean.

For eleven years he worked in the store, being honest, trustworthy and faithful in all things, thus winning the highest regard of Mr. Bean. Mr. Bean and his family thinking of him more as a son than an employee.

After the death of Mr. Bean he remained with Mrs. Bean and her sister at Birchmont, Farm, overseeing the farm work with as much interest as though it were his own. He was a member of the Pleasant Valley Grange and treasurer of Union church.

The funeral was held at Birchmont, Sunday, Rev. Mr. Little of the Universalist church, Bethel, officiating. Dr. and Mrs. Wight, Mr. Pushard and Mrs. Herbert Rowe, formed the quartette which rendered the music. The funeral offerings were exceedingly beautiful and the large attendance proved the esteem felt toward him, not only from our town but from those surrounding.

A brother and sister accompanied the body to Darlington, where it was awaited by an aged mother, a sister and brother. Two sisters and a brother reside in Massachusetts, while the other brother and sister care for the mother in her declining years.

William H. Mills of Poland Springs is in town for a few days.

Dr. Gustavus J. Nelson's residence at China, was burned Friday. It caught from the sparks from a fire burning in a bog. At one time the village of China was threatened, but only two residences were burned. A greater part of Dr. Nelson's furniture was saved, but so rapid was the progress of the fire that they were only able to save a small portion of Dr. Nelson's fine medical library. A horse and cow were saved from the barn but a considerable quantity of hay and 10 or 12 cords of wood were burned. Dr. Nelson values his place at $8000 and had but about $1000 insurance upon it. It will be remembered that Dr. Nelson's daughter, Vena D. Nelson, was the stenographer at the Lovvings trial office last winter and made many acquaintances in town.

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at the time of child-birth, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when the strain is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results. There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial. It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.

BRYANT POND.

Prominent G. A. R. Man Gone.

In the death of John Arkett, of this town, the G. A. R. loses one of its most prominent members in this State, and the town is deprived of one of its most notable citizens. "Comrade" Arkett's war record, as will appear below, was arduous, long and noble. It is fitting at this time that some mention be made of it.

John Arkett was born February 2, 1845, in New York City, of mixed Scotch-Irish parentage. After the death of his father, while Mr. Arkett was but a boy, his mother re-married and came to Maine, where the family lived successively in Portland, Waterville and Bryant Pond. Greenwood and Bryant Pond have been Mr. Arkett's home since boyhood. He lived for over forty years in the homestead on the hill back of the village, where on April 11th he died, after a two week's illness with pneumonia. He is survived by one son, Albert Walter Arkett of this place, by one daughter, Mrs. Isabella M. Severance of Auburn and by several grandchildren. During the past few years he served as deacon in the Baptist church at Bryant Pond, where the funeral exercises took place. Rev. E. A. Davis delivered the address; the interment took place in Lakeside Cemetery.

Comrade Arkett was a charter member of the A. M. Whitman Post G. A. R. His war record began Sept. 7, 1863, he enlisted at Lewiston as a private in Company F, 16th Regiment Maine Infantry Volunteers. On Apr. 23d of the next year, he was promoted to the grade of corporal, which rank he held till the time of his discharge at the close of the war, at Arlington Heights, Va., July 16, 1865.

The first battle in which he was engaged was Mine Run, Va., Nov. 30, 1862. This was followed by a long list of famous engagements, in all of which Comrade Arkett took an active and honorable part. Among the more important of these battles were the noted "Wilderness" fight, Spotsylvania, North Anna, Church, Petersburg, including the siege of Fort Mifflin, Gravelly Run, Five Forks, Appomattox Court House and others. At the last named, he took part in the celebrated closing episode of the war, namely, The Surrender of General Robert E. Lee and the Confederate Army.

Comrade Arkett was taken prisoner at the battle of Weldon Railroad, August 19, 1864, by General Mahon's division of Lee's army. He made good his escape, however, rejoined his troops and stayed in the ranks until the close of the war, when he took part, with the army of the Potomac, in the Grand Review at Washington, D. C., May 24, 1865.

Thus it will be seen that Comrade Arkett had an unusually active and important part in the labors and the heroism of the Great Rebellion. He dwelt with pleasure of his incursions of this great struggle. Kindly and courteous to all, a family figure in this community and one greatly respected, he will be missed by all who ever had the privilege of enjoying his acquaintance.

DO GHOSTS HAUNT SWAMP?

No, Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bays and lowlands. These are the malarial germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. It has been proven to drive out the malarial from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine luck ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy. Only 50c at The Noyes Drug Store. 18-21
